Position Description

Clinical Mental Health Counseling Faculty

DEPARTMENT:	School of Education and Counseling
POSITION BEGINS:	July 1, 2019
SALARY:	Commensurate with qualifications and experience
Revised	March 2019

Application Process on Following Page

MISSION: To educate Christians who will make a difference in the world for Jesus Christ.

RESPONSIBILITIES: Primary responsibility is teaching courses in the clinical mental health counseling program. The successful candidate will be able to teach clinical mental health counseling coursework; teaching schedule has flexibility over three semesters of an academic year. The successful candidate must teach the subject matter in a manner that is consistent with the university's Statement of Faith. Other duties include academic advising, curriculum and program development, potentially providing support at two counseling clinics, and university and departmental committee work. Corban University faculty are expected to be active scholars, excellent teachers, active in service to the university and the community, and able to model the integration of faith and learning.

QUALIFICATIONS AND REQUIREMENTS:

Education: PhD in Counselor Education OR related doctoral degrees and have been employed as a full-time faculty member in a counselor education program for a minimum of one full academic year before July 1, 2013; valid clinical license (LPC or LMFT) or licensable.

Experience: Experience as a licensed counselor in a variety of counseling agencies is required and higher education teaching experience is preferred. The candidate will be knowledgeable with a variety of state agencies and have experience as a clinical supervisor. Candidate will have strong leadership skills and a commitment to making community contacts. Candidate should have strong teaching and leadership skills and have a demonstrated record of active participation in professional organizations.

Character: The candidate must have a personal relationship with Jesus Christ and evidence a mature Christian faith, be in agreement with the University's statement of faith, be committed to the integration of biblical principles within the practice of counseling and be willing to invest him/herself in the development of graduate student-counselors. The counseling program places great value in collaboration and, therefore, desires candidates who have the same teamwork and collaborative values. Candidates should value an environment that reflects the diversity of God's kingdom, engages in global concerns and connects culturally.

Faculty Overview

Corban University is a Christian university whose purpose is to educate Christians who will make a difference in the world for Jesus Christ. The university is accredited by the Northwest Commission on Colleges and Universities. Corban provides a strong Bible-centered academic program with more than 50 majors and programs of study including professional, liberal arts, and ministries. Along with traditional and adult degree completion programs at the undergraduate level, Corban offers graduate teacher licensure programs and graduate degrees in education, business, counseling, and ministry. A personal relationship with Jesus Christ is a requirement for all employees and students. Within these guidelines, it is our policy to provide equal opportunity to all applicants, employees and students and to not discriminate on the basis of gender, disability, race, color, national origin or age in access to, or treatment in employment.

Institutional Statement

Corban University is a private comprehensive university of liberal arts, ministry, and professional studies with a mission to educate Christians who will make a difference in the world for Jesus Christ. All employees are expected to model servant leadership in all aspects of their work. Corban values and recruits for a workforce that is diverse in gender, age, ethnicity, race, and/or ability, and seeks employees who will interact with the Corban community in a way that reflects a commitment to cultural proficiency. Where permitted by law and consistent with the school's history, mission, and core values, Corban exercises religious preference throughout the University. Employees must have a personal relationship with Jesus Christ, agree with the University Statement of Faith, evidence a mature Christian faith, and be an active member of a Bible-believing, Gospel-preaching local church.
