CORBAN LIFESTYLE RESPONSIBILITIES

As a Christian university, Corban is committed to providing a Christian education for life and service. It is our conviction that learning and the Christian faith are inseparable. We are committed to the Bible as our standard of faith and practice. We believe that the Christian life is positive rather than negative. We also believe, however, that it is in the best interest of the University to be specific with respect to certain standards.

Corban students are responsible to refrain from practices that are biblically condemned. In addition, students are responsible for upholding behavioral standards that promote a community atmosphere conducive to growth. These require a Corban student to abstain from sexual impurity as well as the possession and use of federally-recognized illegal drugs. Responsible use of alcohol and tobacco is permitted off-campus and only by students of legal age (21 for alcohol and 18 for tobacco). Students are responsible to use care in their choice of entertainment and to refrain from all morally degrading aspects of the theater, entertainment media and literature. Corban students are also responsible for being faithful in church, chapel and class attendance.

All accepted applicants will be supplied with a Student Handbook and asked at registration to sign a contract agreeing to abide by the standards of the University. It is suggested that you read the handbook carefully before enrolling. While it is recognized that some may not have personal convictions wholly in accord with these responsibilities and standards, the purposes and ideals underlying necessitate the student's willingness to modify his or her own personal conduct while under the jurisdiction of the University, fully understanding that this is in the best interest of the academic community he or she has chosen to join.

I have read the above and understand that failure to comply with the standards of Corban University may result in disciplinary action and/or dismissal from the institution. I also submit that the information provided herein is valid to the best of my knowledge.
