Federal regulations allow the Financial Aid Office to use professional judgment to make changes to the original information reported on the FAFSA, when a valid reason for the change exists. Some of the more common reasons are listed below. If you meet the criteria listed for consideration, mark the reason and give a brief explanation. If the reason is not listed below, please submit a written explanation with appropriate dollar amounts to the Financial Aid Office.

Please complete the appropriate income information on reverse side and return to the Corban University Office of Financial Aid. You must include specific dollar amounts when filling out this form.

Student Name (printed): _____

Student's (and/or spouse's) income will change significantly from the income listed on the FAFSA. On the reverse side please list your best estimate of what your income will be between the twelve-month period of July 1, 2023 through June 30, 2024. Also, estimate the amount of federal income tax to be paid based upon that income.

Parents' income (for dependent students only) will change significantly from the income listed on the FAFSA. On the reverse side please list your best estimate of what the parents' adjusted gross income will be during the twelve-month period of July 1, 2023 through June 30, 2024. Also, estimate the amount of federal income tax to be paid based upon that income.

A source of untaxed income listed on the FAFSA will not be available or will be significantly less for 2023-2024. On reverse side, please list the source of untaxed income and the total amount to be received for the twelve-month period of July 1, 2023 through June 30, 2024.

Complete the following:

- 1) Please fill out the reverse side completely.
- 2) Give a written explanation for the change (please use the space provided below and attach an additional sheet, if necessary). Your Special Circumstances appeal cannot be processed without an explanation of your situation.
