"Corban has helped me really focus on how I can serve others and Christ through my career, advancing His Kingdom. It has helped me center on Christ in areas where I'm scared and to embed the gospel in everything I do and say."

- Lindsey Jones, '27

“Christian education changes lives. Corban students are prepared to meet real-world needs across our globe because they are grounded in a distinctly Christian worldview. Your participation in the work God is doing at Corban ensures access for any student who wants to follow God’s calling. As those same students enter the workforce, they impact their spheres of service with the Gospel. Your generosity changes student lives and as they graduate, the communities they serve.

Thanks for being a partner in the bold work of global gospel advance!”

– John Mark Yeats, Ph.D., President

“Corban has given me an excellent education deeply rooted in Scripture. I am not only challenged and growing academically, but also growing in my faith and in my life as I learn to bear more fruit through Him who gives me strength.”

– Ethan Graham, '29
